

Family Pet Burial Services

Our Family Pet Burial Services provide a gentle and dignified farewell for your beloved companion. Starting from $550, our caring team will come to your home, lovingly prepare and groom your pet for a final family viewing if requested, and provide a commemorative death certificate.

Where possible, the grave will be prepared in your own backyard or on private land (with the property owner's permission). Unfortunately, there are currently no dedicated pet cemeteries in Victoria.

Important information: Victorian law, overseen by the Department of Health and your local council, places restrictions on pet burials at home. In some cases, burial may not be permitted on your land due to environmental or regulatory requirements. We will guide you through these steps, check what applies in your area, and help ensure the process is handled with care and in line with current guidelines.

⚠ Health & Safety Notice

If your pet has been euthanised (e.g. with pentobarbital or other veterinary drugs) or has died from a contagious disease such as parvovirus, distemper, or leptospirosis, burial is not recommended due to risks to the environment, wildlife, and other animals.

In these cases, cremation is the recommended option. If cremation is not suitable for your circumstances, we will respectfully collect your pet and provide After-Life Care in accordance with Department of Health and local council guidelines.
